vot written. Price ... $1.00 SPECIAL NAVY LEAGUE ENVOY TO CANADA.

The Executive Committee have great pleasure in announcing that Mr H. F. Wyatt line agreed to undertake a special mission for the League to Canada in the early autumn of this year. The Committee have long wished to find a suitable representative to visit on its behalf its over-sea branches and to confer with those who, often in the face of many difficulties, are carrying forward the League's work. Mr Wyatt, who will thus be rendering gratuitous service to the cause, in addition to long and intimate connection with the League, has had experience peculiarly appropriate to the task which lie will now assume. He originally joined the Executive Committee as the connecting link between it and the London group of Volunteer Lecturers upon the unity of the Empire, which had been formed in the year 1895, under the presidency of the late Sir John Seeley. Of this group, Mr Wyatt, in conjunction with that well-known Imperial Federationist Mr G. R. Parkin, C.M G., of Toronto, and IL. F. Wilson, afterwards principal private secretary to Mr Chamberlain, was one of the founders and the Honorary Secretary. At meetings arranged for this organisation, for the Navy League, and for kindred bodies, Mr Wyatt has addressed during the last six or seven years audiences in most parts of England, and his name as a lecturer and speaker on Imperial themes is well and widely known. In Soctland, a public appeal for co-operation, made by Mr Wyatt on behalf of the Sceley lecturers, as they came to be called, produced the formation of a strong committee, comprising some of the foremost men of Edinburgh University, and other Imperialists, including, by the way, Lord Rosebery. This Committee now has branches actively at work in many parts of the ancient Northern kingdom. In carrying out his arduous and responsible work in Canada, Mr. Wyatt will have the good wishes of all those who desire the achievement of that real command of the sea by the British HOUSEN AT CAUSEWAY DAY, FACING THE people, to win which is the object of the Navy League. To confer, so far as opportunity can be found, with all hands lies chiefly, the power to attain THE HONGKONG LAND INVEST. | that great end, and to address meetings on every suitable occasion, will be part of Mr. Wynet's task. The League appeals as confidently as urgently to all its friends on both sides the Atlantic who have the power to forward the success of the coming endeavour, and so to promote. In the eldest of the daughter Sates of Britain, the growth of the Langue, which seeks to obtain for them all that unchallenged and unchallingcable paval supremacy which is the strongest bond of union and the surest guarantee of peace. It is enruestly desired that Mr. Wyatt's jointney through Canada should be extended thence to New Zealand and Australia, with a return to England it has a spend of view, and enjoys the full i by way of South Misiga, and the Agents-General of New Z aland and of four of the Australian Colonies have been good enough to apply to their Ministers of Railways for free transit for the Longue's envoy. But since the Longue's funds are not in proportion to the scope of its und reak age, it will be impussible to defray the expenses inso arable from this project unless special assistance be generously afforded from C. lexternal sources. Subscriptions near he sent to the Secretary, Navy League, 13 338 Victoria Street, Westminster, by whom they will be at once acknowledged.

For Sale by A. S. Warson & Co., Chemist. THE ECONOMY OF OIL FUEL.

Engineering has some conclusive figures as to the relative can amprica at oil and coal, deduced from the results on long voyages of sen-going steamers of the Shell Transport and Trading Company, the Burnish Oil Company, and Mesars Körting. In a 2200 indicated horse-power Germaniship the consumption was 1:4 lb. of oil, against 1.93 of coal; in a. 2500 indicated horse-power British ship, 1.065 lb, of oil, against 1.49 lb. of coal; in a Tyne-built ship, 1.08 lb. of oil, against 1.67 lb. of coal. All these results are per horse-power per Lour; while in a fourth the consumption per day was 10 tons of oil against 25 tons of coal. These results show a reduction in the consumption in favour of oil of from 27 to 36 per cent From the figures given above, it is evident that with a well-designed apparatus it is possible by good management to realise in actual practice the full difference in calmific value between liquid and solid fuel, at rates of evapora tion such as are usually obtained in the boilers of vessels of the mercantile marine. At the higher rates of evaporation, such as those required in war vessels, the problem becomes more complex; but now that it is receiving the serious consideration of the Admiralty, there can be no doubt that a satisfactory solution of this most important question will be arrived at,

"I pros't"fink dat yo' would marry dat Johnson gal.' 'I had too marry her too git back man melodeon an' hanjo.'

Senie people are weakly and emsciated, yet they are not, to say, sick. Their appetites are fair, they est good, wholesome food, but they cannot gain flesh. The face is, their nutritive functions are deficient. The food may even he digested, but is not properly assimilated. With loss of, or lack of, sufficient flesh there is a corresponding decline of strength and vigour. Comeliness of form is dependent upon graceful curves, plumpness, rather than upon nugles. Bony prominences, hollow cheeks and eyes, are not pleasing to the sight. Steams' Wine of Cod Liver Cil is an admirable flesh-builder. It will increase the weight of almost anyone. It improves the appetite, stimulates digestion, builds up nutrition. It presents cod liver oil so long landed as a fiesh producer, in a much improved and more active form. It contains no harmful nor observing ingredients and always, produces good results. A wonderful flesh-creator for those who cannot get fat. Stearn's Wine produces adpetite, flash and strength. Mr James Swinburne, President of the Institution of Electrical Engineers, writes in Page's Magazine :- People who finance inventors seldom realise until too late that most of them should be rigidly excluded from the factory, and the inventor generally makes his own success impossible by his want of business knowledge, and his vanity, which prevents his adopting improvements suggested by his assistants. Even the intelligent inventor who merely uses a very extensive knowledge to make improvements in a logical way is often un able to develop his invention. His ideas generally get crystallised, and his thoughts work in a circle. The result is that an invention soldom makes much progress until the patents are run out. Considering the amezing fertility of the war would have to be waged to produce oven an appreciable effect. But one of the most pressing wants of the Municipalities is improved surface drainage; and the construction of masonry and concrete drains to carry off sullage and rain-water from the comment is emphasised by a table prepared by the Sanitary Engineer showing the death-rates of localities where a drainage system or water-supply has been introduced. As a matter of fact no towns in the provinces have a complete drainage system, and the figures go to show that lacking that they might be better off without a water-supply. Naini Tal, Dohra Dan, and Lucknow, it is true, show a slightly decreased deathrate since the introduction of pipe water, but in every other case there has been an increase. Altahabad, with an experience of water-works extending over cloven years, has now an average death-rate of 33.46 as compared with 25.77 in the old days when there was no proper water-supply; Moerut's death-rate has risen from 32.13 to 38.25 since pure water was supplied to the town, and Agra's from 32.23 to 37.47. During the last eight years, Cownpore has averaged 49.35 as compared with 41.17 for the previous five years. THE LEKIN QUESTION.

In the course of his address to the members of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, at the quarterly meeting, Mr John Thomson, the president, after speaking hopefully of the prospects of the British Cotton Growing Association, referred at length to the revision of the treaty with China. New proposals, he said, had reached the Foreign Office through Sir James Mackay. Lord Lansdowne invited representatives of the Manchester Chamber, of the London and Blackburn Chambers, of the China Association, and of the China League, to confer with him upon proposals, ing frayed or cut, and at the same time the and the president, with two other members of the Chamber engaged in the China trade, attended at the Foreign Office on July 24. As the negotiations were still pending it was impossible to lay full particulars before them, but it was the feeling of all present that the new suggestions were a great advance upon the scheme and international taxation upon foreign goods would not be too heavy a price to pay for the advantages which might result from the new provisions if really earried out. The total of import duty and surtax at the present prices in Shanghai would amount to a little over 103 per cent. They might gather from telegrams in the newspapers that morning that the surfax

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION. Before His Honour A. G. Wise, Puisne

Wednesday, September 3.

R. C. HANSEN P. A. R. MARTY. This was an action brought to recover $531, being salary and mess money for four months in liou of notice of dismissal while plaintiff was third engineer on board Mr A. R. Marty's steamer Hongkong. The Hongkong is French-owned and plys between Hongkong, Haiphong and intermediate ports. Judgment was given for the plaintiff, with costs, last month. Application was then made for re-hearing on the ground that a portion of the French Consul's evidence had been misunderstood by His Lordship. Mr Griste (of Mossrs Wilkinson and Grist), appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr J. Hastings (of Messrs Deacon and Hastings),

M. R. Réau, French Consul, gave evidence to show that the French law was that only French officers were allowed upon French ships; and at least three-fourths of the crew must be French. The rule is relaxed only when no French officers are available. His Lordship asked what Mr Grist had to say in view of the new evidence. Mr Grist said that the original defence was that neither party was bound by the written contract. That defence was now abandoned-the contract contained in the ship's articles was binding on both sides. According to the ship's articles, four months' notice was to be given or taken on either side, with the provise that if the authorities required the discharge of the plaintiff the owners would be allowed to discharge him. Now the question was-Did the authorities require plaintiff to be discharged? It could only be presumed that the authorities would not have interested themselves in the matter at all, and that the plaintiff would have continued in his employment on board this steamer had it not been for the deliberate act of the owner himself. Therefore, he submitted that this man had not been discharged at the request of the French authorities or Consular Agent, nor was there evidence that they thought it necessary; and it was quite possible they would never have thought it necessary to interfore in the peculiar circumstances under which the plaintiff was engaged. He, therefore, claimed for the full amount of $531; or should his Lordship be against him on that point then for $31 and

Mr Hastings argued that the defendant could not help himself, and was bound to discharge the plaintiff and engage a French. engineer as soon as a French engineer was available. Plaintiff must be taken as having contracted to serve on board this French ship according to the French law.

His Lordship, in giving judgment, said the whole delay in this case had been due to Mr Marty, for had the articles been forthcoming at the first hearing the case would have been settled then. He held that Mr Marty had broken the French law by not discharging the plaintiff at Haiphong, where the French engineer was available, instead of carrying him to Hongkong and discharging him here. He, therefore, gave judgment for the full amount, and costs of both trials,

Will the Government take steps to license Contractors under bond or otherwise? Will the Government state what the regulations are as to public enquiries being held into accidents such as these ?

Will the Government table a return showing the number of houses which have collapsed this year with futal results and giving the owners' names, the architects' creetion?

Mr May replied :-

1. The Police Magistrate is about to hold enquiries into agreeal of the collapses that were attended with loss of life; the Crown Solicitor will armear on behalf of the Grown.

2. The Government does not consider it practicable to license Contractors, because privations were borne. You gave it is only in exceptional cases that Chinese Contractors possess such training as would justify the issue of licences. Owners of property should be guided by the advice of their Architects in selecting a Contractor. As a rule they seem to be guided by the lowest tender only.

The termini are Moscow and Port Arthur, and the time occupied between these two points is eighteen days, made up in the fellowing manner. The Moscow-Irkutsk tinin-de-ture departs at 10 o'clock p.m., twice weekly, and arrives at 8 o'clock p.m. on the eighth day succeeding; its comforts and conveniences equal or excel those of the Canadian or American sleeping cars, greater privacy, separate lavatories and better attention perhaps compensating for a weaker cuisibe. For the avoidance of an Irkutsk hotel permission is easily obtainable to spend the night of arrival in the train, since the short three and a half hours' run down to Lake Baikal is at 6 o'clock on the following morning. The crossing of the Lake takes five hours and is carried out on just such lines as a channel crossing from Dover. From Missovais, on the other side of the Lake, it is exactly three days to the Manchurian frontier ; no longer de luxe, the carriage is passably comfortable, and a restaurant car is attached to the train one day per week. On the alternate train ample time is allowed for meals at the station buffets, simple, well-cooked, and mexpensive.

At the frontier, on the evening of the twelfth day from Moscow, it is well to know a little Russian or to have secured the services of a friendly interpreter.
